Housing, population and workforce[edit]A city's population is confined to housing plots designated on the map by the player.. Titles released up until 2004 used the same isometric viewgame engine, although progressively tweaked and modified according to the theme of the game.. The player must also strike a balance between imports, exports and taxes to keep their town financially strong.. This is called 'housing evolution' These needs can be either commodities, services, or local desirability.. Need help with a city? OK - I admit, I could just play through all the tutorial scenarios, but I'm having too much fun in open
